

DAWSONS
SOLICITORS

Private Client

International Work

Dawsons Private Client department acts for a broad range of clients based both in the UK and internationally. The department is noted for its expertise on international tax planning, particularly for UK resident but non-domiciled individuals.

Our expert team has extensive international experience on cross-boarder issues and offers pragmatic advice both in relation to UK matters and non-UK aspects.

The department has extensive connections with overseas advisors and is able to obtain and co-ordinate advice in most jurisdictions where international work is carried out.

Internationally, the department's range of work includes:

- detailed and commercial tax planning advice for non-UK domiciled individuals
- we have a wealth of experience in advising offshore trustees on both tax and trust interpretation issues

- providing tax efficient structures for the investments of international clients, both in the UK and elsewhere
- acting as a central co-ordinating "family office" for clients
- experience in dealing with international probates.

The Service

We are committed to providing the highest quality of service in every respect, which entails a high level of partner involvement, as well as increasing specialisation both by partners and other fee earners. This ensures that the department is fully equipped to advise in an area of practice which is changing rapidly. If you would like advice on any private client matter, please see over for contact details.

For further information on the firm and brief partner biographies visit www.dawsonslp.com.

Wynne Thomas

Wynne has had over 20 years experience advising high net worth individuals and trustees on UK and overseas tax planning issues. Wynne's particular expertise includes advising on UK inheritance tax and capital gains tax. Wynne has also a wide experience of advising on the structuring of real estate investment in the UK by international clients. Wynne has published articles in well known private client tax journals, including Trusts and Estates Law Journal and has chaired and spoken at a number of conferences.

Direct Tel: +44 (0)20 7421 4768
E-mail: w.thomas@dawsonslip.com

Neil Morris

On qualification Neil joined Farrers, and later moved to Lewis & Lewis & Co a predecessor of Eversheds London office where he was national head of Private Tax. Neil has 30 years experience in dealing with UK and international tax succession and trust planning for high net worth individuals, and complex international estate and succession issues, including estate administration. He has lectured to STEP and other organisations and published articles on a variety of international tax planning and succession issues and wrote the chapter on Manx Succession Law in David Hayton's European Succession Law.

Direct Tel: +44 (0)20 7421 4838
E-mail: n.morris@dawsonslip.com

Robert Macro

On qualification Robert joined Goodman Derrick and subsequently moved to British Virgin Islands (BVI) law firm O'Neal Webster where he headed the trust department. Robert was admitted as a solicitor of Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court (BVI) in 2005 and continues to advise on BVI law. Robert deals with both UK and international tax planning for individuals and trustees.

Robert was previously assistant group company secretary for both Oceonics Group plc and the Eastern Counties Newspaper Group (now the Archant Media Group). He is a member of the Association of Taxation Technicians and the Society of Trust and Estate Practitioners.

Robert has published a number of articles including the BVI entry in Trusts and Trustees 'World Trust Survey' for 2006 and 2007

Direct Tel: +44 (0)20 7421 4834
E-mail: r.macro@dawsonslip.com